ACTIVITY PREVAILS AT OFFICE

Of the War Secretary In London On Account of Ulster Situation

CONFERENCES ARE HELD

By Officials After Which Resignation of Army Officers Serving in Ireland Announced—Irish Garrisons are Being Reinforced.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

London, March 21.—The utmost activity prevails at the war office and in the other departments of the government affected by the apparently grave situation in Ulster. All the secretaries of state today cancelled their usual week end trips to the country.

Colonel John Seely, secretary of state for war, and Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, conferred at the war office this morning. After the conference a statement was issued confirming the report of the resignation of some army officers serving in Ireland and stating that these cases will be dealt with in due and normal course by General Sir Arthur Paget, the commander in chief in Ireland.

In the meantime the officers concerned, according to the statement, "are performing their duties, which duties naturally include obedience to orders."

Rumors were in circulation today that many other officers of the army serving in the south of Ireland will resign their commissions if ordered to Ulster. Meanwhile General Sir Arthur Paget continues to dispose his troops, who have orders to safeguard government property and to maintain law and order.

A detachment of 150 men of the regular army arrived this morning at Carrickfergus near Belfast to reinforce the garrison. Large quantities of arms and ammunition are stored there.

In order to prevent an outbreak the police in Ireland have been told not to take any steps to enforce the "Brose act" in cases where members of the "Ulster volunteers" are seen carrying rifles in camp or elsewhere. The act empowers the authorities to seize all unlicensed firearms.

The greatest danger is believed to lie in the possibility of Orange and Nationalist workmen coming to blows. This might start a general conflict.

King George is keeping in close touch with the situation. He summoned the secretary of state for war to Buckingham palace at an early hour this morning and also sent one of his private secretaries to the premier's residence in Downing street to secure the latest official information.

An official communication issued this afternoon says:

The recent movements of troops in Ulster are purely precautionary with the object of giving adequate protection to depots of arms and ammunition and other government property against possible risks.

It adds: "There has not been, and is not now, any intention to move troops into Ulster except for these and like purposes."

"Liberalism will not flinch one inch before the arrogant and insolent plague of Ulsterism," was the message conveyed today by David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, to a mass meeting of liberals at Huddersfield. The chancellor was talking about Ulster and the attitude of the Unionists. He said:

"The country is confronted with the gravest issue in the history of Democratic government since the days of the Stuarts. Representative government in this land is at stake. I am here on behalf of the government to say we mean to confront this defiance of popular liberties with resolute and unwavering determination whatever the hazard may be. We are not fighting about Ulster or about home rule. We are fighting for all that is essential to the civil liberty of this land."

The outstanding feature of the news from Ireland today was the disaffection among the officers of the regular army under orders to proceed to Ulster with their regiments.

The actual number of resignations among them was still problematical but that it was considerable evident from the earnest early morning consultations of cabinet ministers regarding the best means of counteracting the movement.

The actual fact of this disaffection is the more disconcerting to the military authorities since the army is already seriously short of commissions.

Threats of a crisis in the army is a movement of regular troops was undertaken against Ulster had long been current and in some quarters it is believed that the sudden marching of a limited number of troops were ordered so that the military authorities might rather

Denison's 1914 Champions

Contest Half Finished

Today marks the halfway point in the Advocate Booklovers' contest. Exactly half of the 70 pictures have now been published.

As was expected a great deal of interest was manifested in the contest on the day the first picture appeared February 10th, but contrary to expectations, this interest has increased every day since publication of the first picture. To be sure, a few who started solving the pictures dropped out but, for every one who quit forty took their places.

The nice thing about the contest is: (1) It is free to readers of this paper. (2) It gives one both pleasure and profit. (3) It is just as easy to start now as it was at the beginning. (4) Every one of the 126 prizes is worth winning. (5) All anybody has to do is to send or come for the first 35 coupons and a catalogue in order to "get in." (6) Friends are all willing to help you and to discuss the pictures with you.

With the aid of the finding list, with the help of others who are in the contest, anybody can very quickly and easily find answers to the pictures that have been printed. Those starting now will have the benefit of the study of those who commenced earlier.

This is the first day of spring. It's a splendid time to start in this contest. You may as well be among the 126 winners. "Book learning" cuts no figure in this contest. It is a contest of wits. A boy or girl stands just as good a chance as a college graduate. See the rules on page 2.

Licking County Gas Acreage Changes Ownership By Deal Approved By State Commission

The state public service commission on Friday approved of a deal between the Federal Gas and Fuel company, the Ohio Fuel Supply company, and the Columbus Oil and Fuel company, which involves an enormous investment, and is of interest in some senses to Licking county.

In order to prevent an outbreak the police in Ireland have been told not to take any steps to enforce the "Brose act" in cases where members of the "Ulster volunteers" are seen carrying rifles in camp or elsewhere. The act empowers the authorities to seize all unlicensed firearms.

PREPARES TO ATTACK TORREON

Gen. Villa With 12,000 Soldiers Is Ready To Storm the Trenches

REBELS ARE CONFIDENT

Of Victory in What is Predicted Will Be the Most Important Battle of the Revolution—Gen. Velasco Prepares to Defend City.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

Constitutionalist Headquarters, Yerme, Durango, Mexico, March 21.—General Pancho Villa with his 12,000 rebel soldiers today was prepared to hurl the first shell into the trenches around Torreon of the resisting federal army under General Velasco in what is considered the most important battle of the constitutionalist revolution.

Ful of confidence General Villa has transmitted his energy to his subordinates and the camp at Yerme presented a scene which had never marked a revolutionary movement in Mexico. The peon soldiers hurried here and there, giving final touches to the establishment of the plans for the opening assault. Refreshed by a night's sleep after the long, hard march through the desert from Mapima and Bermejillo, Villa's khaki clad soldiers sprang to their work.

Beginning of today saw the rebel army stationed on the outskirts of the federal stronghold, a position they had gained without resistance and with scarcely the sound of a shot to check their preparations for an assault. Within Torreon all was comparatively quiet and none in the rebel camp knew what preparations General Velasco was making to repel the attack of the revolutionists.

Speculation as to when the battle will begin was ripe today among the soldiers and the civilians who had followed the rebel leader south from Chihuahua, but Villa answered all inquiries with the vaunt that "Torreon will be mine in a week."

BOY BADLY BURNED BY EXPLOSION

John Fields, the twelve-year-old son of Mrs. John Fields, was seriously but not fatally burned Saturday morning, in an accident that occurred at the home of a neighbor, Frank Backenstos, 418 South Second street, and Lee Backenstos, about the same age, escaped with slight injuries.

The lads were playing about the home, and attempted to start a fire in the furnace, using coal oil for the purpose, which exploded with the result that the Fields boy's face and neck were badly burned and Dr. C. F. Legge, who is attending him, is fearful that he inhaled the flames.

FIND PATROLMAN GUILTY AFTER ONE JURY HAD DISAGREED

Youngstown, March 21.—After being out 15 hours the jury in the case of Patrolman James Morrissey, accused of giving protection to disorderly houses in return for food, drink and shelter, that man was returned a verdict of guilty. Morrissey will be sentenced early next week.

This was the second time this case has come before a jury, the first trial ending in a deadlock.

BURGLARS BUSY AT SEVILLE, O.

Seville, O., March 21.—Burglars robbed six business firms here last night but obtained only about $25. The Baltimore and Ohio railroad station, C. E. Cross grocery shop; C. E. Cook Barber, C. M. Peacock, Baker, O. Hartzel, J. L. Brinkley, and T. H. Brinkley, grocer, made up the list of victims. Efforts to seize Mansfield to the burglar party failed.

STRIKING MINERS WILL NOT ABANDON CAMP AT COLLIERES

Columbus, W. Va., March 21.—Striking miners of the West Virginia and Pittsburgh Coal company, who have been in camp near the company's property since the strike was declared last December held their ground today in spite of the report that Justice Oliver P.旷野, their leader, who is on trial in the United States district court at Philadephia for violating the injunction of Judge Dawson had ordered them to leave their tents. Joseph Powers, who has command of the camp in Gates, declared he would maintain the camp until he received orders from John P. White, president of the United Mine Workers of America, to the contrary. It was reported here that officials of the Ohio organization had instructed Powers to keep the strikers together and not abandon the camp.

Mme. Caillaux, Who Killed Editor of Figaro, and Her Husband, French Minister of Finance

TELLS OF SHOOTING CALMETTE

Madame Caillaux Gives Version of the Killing of Paris Editor

SOBS DURING RECITAL

Always Took Great Interest in Public Life of Her Husband—Prisoner is Showered with Attenions from Numerous Friends.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Paris, March 21.—Madame Caillaux, dressed in black gave her version of the killing of Gaston Calmette before Henry Boucard, the investigating magistrate today. The courtroom was protected from any disturbance by a heavy guard.

Mme. Caillaux began with a brief history of her married life. Then she remarked:

"I always took great interest in the public life of my husband, sharing the pleasures and the care of politics."

The prisoner's recital was suspended temporarily when she burst into a fit of sobbing. On resuming her testimony she said, speaking slowly:

"For two years an abominable campaign was directed against my husband who was attacked on every occasion notably on the charge that he had secretly ceded a portion of the French Congo to Germany and in connection with the Agadair incident in Morocco. I was deeply aggrieved by these calumnies which became particularly venomous at the time of the formation of the Doumougue cabinet. The feeling of hostility I noticed especially at receptions. My indignation was aroused because I had implicit faith in my husband's honesty and probity."

Mme. Caillaux was showered with attentions today. Her friends and acquaintances having partly recovered from the shock caused by her act, are now showing their interest in her fate and hundreds of them have written to her or left cards at the gates of Saint Lazarus prison, where she is in custody. She receives a huge bag of letters in every mail, as well as great bouquets of flowers, baskets of fruit and packages of books.

Mme. Caillaux passed the greater part of the forenoon in answering her correspondence, reading the newspapers and conversing with her husband and her little daughters.

The sharp watchfulness of the prison warden and the attendant nuns, which had been called forth by rumors of the prisoner's intention to commit suicide has now relaxed.

Mme. Caillaux gives no indication of being morbid or depressed.

She now has three cells, one of them serving as a bedroom, another as a dining room and a third as a workroom. All open into the same corridor, which is inclosed by a fine meshed wire netting.

HOLLER DITCH NOT A SANITARY SEWER SAYS HEALTH BOARD

A resolution adopted by the board of health at the meeting held Friday night forbids the use of the Holler ditch in West Newark as a sanitary sewer, and orders all connections from sanitary fixtures discontinued until such time as the ditch is made a sanitary sewer. The order makes it necessary for changes to be made in the sewer connections of the Mahonia street school. The board also requests the service department to clean away the rubbish from Indiana street east of the bridge. A slaughter house in Broad street was ordered cleaned up and abated.

The monthly report of the health officer showed 24 cases of contagious diseases, seven of diphtheria, five of scarlet fever and one of typhoid. The others were of a less serious nature.

WILL NOT PERMIT WIVES OR HORSES TO BE ABUSED

Horses and wives are classed in the same category, at least by some men, according to the developments in police court Saturday morning, three of the half dozen or more cases requiring the attention of Mayor Bigbee being ones where the defendants were charged with abusing their wives or horses. Two men were charged with wife beating. One man drew a fine of $50 and costs for assaulting his wife, the amount being suspended during good behavior "and no longer" said the court. The other was dismissed as his good wife re-entered after causing his arrest and did not prosecute the case. A road Newark man, charged with abusing his horse while drunk, drew a fine of $5 and costs which he paid.

DECIDES IN FAVOR OF THE UNIVERSITY

Nashville, Tenn., March 21.—Samuel Ross, reporter, was killed and $4,000 worth of furniture owned by a department store and 24 automobiles, the property of residents of a garage were destroyed in a fire which originated in a gasoline tank in the garage shortly after 9 o'clock this morning. The building in which the garage and furniture warehouse were located is situated in the heart of To do district and the stubborn fire that gave the local department the most strenuous fight of the year for control threatening department stores, hardware supply houses and other buildings in the neighborhood. The fire was started when tanks in the garage were being filled with gasoline in the light of a torch held by an employee. Explosions of nine or ten of the tanks was prevented by hurried removal of filled tanks from the building.

Clip out your coupons neatly, and fill them out clearly and plainly, remembering that in the event of a tie for any prize between two or more contestants, neatness and clear writing will win the judges' favor. The picture is to be a part of the coupon. Do not detach the coupon from the picture.

Send no answers whatever to the Advocate until the contest is ended by the publication of Picture No. 70. Any answers received before that time will be destroyed and will not be counted. Read the rules carefully.

Rules of the Booklovers' Contest.

Any person may compete in this contest who lives either in Licking, Delaware, Knox, Coshocton, Muskingum, Perry, Fairfield or Franklin counties, Ohio, except employees of the Advocate or members of their families.

Answers to the picture must be written upon the coupon blank which will be printed every day with each picture during the seventy publication days the contest will last. Both picture and blank must be clipped from the paper, and the blank properly filled in with the name of book and the author's name together with the name and address of the contestant written clearly and plainly in the space provided. Not more than one person's name may be written on any coupon.

Each picture will represent the title of only one book, but there may be some pictures that suggest the title of several books. For the benefit of contestants, and to allow for this variety of solution, any contestant may give as many as five answers to any picture, at will; but not more than one solution may be written on any coupon. If the contestant gives two answers as likely to include the correct one, two coupons must be used; if three answers, three coupons, and so on.

In each instance, whether the contestant gives one answer or five answers to any picture, both the pictures and coupon must be used for each of the answers; and not more than five answers to any picture will be permitted.

If any one of the five answers that may be given to any picture is correct, the contestant will be credited for the correct solution and will not have the incorrect ones counted against his or her chances.

Prizes will be awarded to every contestant, by the Contest Judge, who sends in the largest number of correct answers upon the smallest number of coupons. Thus, if a contestant gives the correct answers to 70 of the pictures and uses only 70 coupons, that contestant will rate higher in the prize awards than one who uses 140 coupons or any higher number up to 350 for supplying the 70 correct answers.

If two or more persons, supplying the same number of correct answers, have used the same number of coupons for their answers, the highest rating will be given to the one whose answers are most nearly prepared, in the opinion of the judges.

No contestant will be allowed to submit more than one set of answers, which must include not less than 70 or more than 250 coupons, with accompanying pictures.

Positively no solution may be sent in to the Contest Editor until every one of the seventy pictures has been printed. Answers in complete sets, as just specified above, will then be received in this office, and should be addressed to "Contest Editor" Booklovers' Contest, Advocate, Newark, Ohio. The awards will be made strictly according to the correctness of each set of answers, and the correctness shall be

The usual morning and afternoon games are scheduled for Memorial Day and the Fourth of July, in addition to the Labor Day contests already mentioned. On May 30 Springfield plays at Grand Rapids, Ft. Wayne at Evansville, and Terre Haute at Dayton. Independence Day will find Springfield at Ft. Wayne, Evansville at Dayton, and Grand Rapids at Terre Haute.

AGREE THAT THE "BIG REDS" HAVE EARNED TITLE

Granville, March 21.—The basketball issue of the Denisonian came out Friday, giving an excellent review of the season and a large number of cuts. Photos of Coach Livingston, Manager C. D. Coons, Student Manager Davies, individual photos of the team and also cuts of the champions of the interfraternity, interclass and Shepardson interclass teams. Brief comment on the team by well known athletic authorities about the state is one of the features. Such men as H. A. Miller, sport editor of the Columbus Dispatch, L. W. St. John, director of athletics at Ohio State University, F. W. Dixon, director of athletics at Ohio Wesleyan, and C. W. Savage, director of athletics at Oberlin, are very frank in expressing their opinions of the state champions. All agree that Denison has earned the title by clean playing and easily excelled all other opponents.

On next Thursday evening in Recital Hall the Franklin Literary society will present a farce comedy entitled, "The Private Secretary." Prof. Victor Hoppe has charge of the play and rapid progress is being made toward mastering the various rolls.

At the Ohio State chapter house of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity a section convention is in session today. The members of the Denison chapters left early this morning to be present. Delegations will attend from Ohio Wesleyan, Wittenberg, Denison, Reserve and Ohio State.

Mr. Homer Rice, convert of one of the Denison Gospel teams, will speak in the Y. M. C. A. at 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

Denison track athletes will hold a dual meet with Ohio university at Athens this afternoon. The Denison team left at 8 o'clock this morning over the T. & O. C. Twelve men were in the squad. Captain Miller is very optimistic over the prospects for a "RED" victory as the team has been showing up well in practice this week. The return trip will be made this evening.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush the Kidneys at once when Backache or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so that they sluggish filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a teaspoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure, makes a delightful effervescent biblio-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

TORTURED BY UGLY ITCHING ERUPTION

Doctor Recommended Resinol. Half of a 50c Jar Cured It.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 8, 1912.—"My little daughter was taken with a very small spot on the back of her hand. It grew larger and caused her more trouble. When she would scratch it, it would bleed and get very ugly looking, so I doctor'd it myself for about a year, and at last it broke out on both knees, and when she would go to bed she would scratch, and was so tortured and suffered so from the itching, that I took her to our doctor, who recommended Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment.

"I sent for samples and after the first application the itching and inflammation was improved, and I kept it up night and morning, and by the time the sample was gone she complained very little, so I got a fifty-cent jar, and before that was half gone the trouble had entirely disappeared." (Signed) Mrs. Maude Schmeichel, 2737 Presbury Street.

Resinol is speedily effective for itching, burning eruptions, pimples, dandruff, burns, old sores and piles. Sold by all druggists. For free samples write to Dept. 15-M, Rosenthal Chem. Co., Baltimore, Md.

You Will Be Approached To Give Your Active Support To New Board of Trade Plan

The citizens of Newark must realize that this is a day of competition in every phase of existence. It is a law of nature, and the result of its operation is the "survival of the fittest" in the world of animal and plant life. It is none the less effective in the realm of mental endeavor, and the lives of communities and cities are particularly susceptible to its influence.

The competition, for precedence, progress and prestige is evident among the cities surrounding Newark and will soon begin spoken with now. It is not coming, it is here. Its nature and extent must be subjects of consideration by all who wish to see Newark keep up in the march of progress. Each individual should make it a subject of concern to himself, and when it resolves itself into conviction should be anxious to embrace an opportunity to enroll himself among the workers to keep abreast of or ahead of the signs of the times.

The opportunity now presents itself in the plan adopted for Newark's commercial development by the Board of Trade. The co-operation of every citizen is not only solicited, but is absolutely necessary to a complete success of the general scheme. Everyone agrees with the commercial development proposition. Not one dissenting voice has been heard to it. But it must be pushed to be successful and this means work. Not for the other fellow alone, but for all, in a big constant effort toward the end in view.

Competition for new factories has never been more keen among cities than now. It is evident right now in Newark. Some of our thriving industries have been importuned to locate elsewhere, and have been offered alluring inducements. These are facts, not possibilities, that may in future have to be faced. They are before us as concrete entities. If other cities are able to do this, it behooves Newark, yes it is absolutely necessary that this city be equipped properly to do likewise. We must do our part as citizens, each and every one, to boost Newark to a high place of industrial prosperity, and it is our duty to keep it there.

There is no such thing as remaining stationary at this time. Newark must either progress or fall behind, and its citizens must decide now which they want to see the city do.

A plan has been offered by the Newark Board of Trade by which it is proposed to advance the city commercially and industrially. This plan has been explained and has received the unqualified endorsements of a number of labor unions and fraternal organizations. It is so broad in its scope and conception as to readily lend itself to the co-operation of every citizen in whatever walk of life his lot may be cast. In fact it must have this united support for its very existence as a prime means for increasing the condition of growth and prosperity which it is intended to further and foster.

A meeting was held Thursday night and a preliminary organization was effected with a view to perfecting a larger organization of personal workers which will embrace every part of the city. So you will be called upon in the near future. Prepare yourself among the active members of the Board of Trade and help along with the grand work it has started to do. You will be on the right track, and the future will be such as to justify your action.

The Lodges

WOMAN'S LOYAL MOOSE CIRCLE. Moundbuilders Circle No. 189, met Tuesday evening at Moose hall. One candidate was given the obligation, and two applications presented. About 25 ladies enjoyed the social hour after the meeting. The tables were prettily decorated with green flags and napkins reminding the ladies that it was St. Patrick's day.

THE ORDER OF REINDEER. All members who have not had an opportunity to visit the Reindeer club rooms since they have been remodeled and furnished, should make it a point to get to the meeting Wednesday night. Besides, propositions will be up for consideration next week of interest to every member of the order.

DAUGHTERS OF AMERICA. The Daughters of Veterans met Tuesday evening, March 10, in regular session, with the president, Mrs. Emma D. Hickman in the chair. The meeting was well attended and much interest shown. It was the first meeting held since the redecorating of the hall and the Daughters were more than pleased with the beautiful effect. Many visits made to the sick and contributions of flags and flowers, were reported. The principal feature of the business session consisted in completing arrangements for a bazaar and market, which will be given April 1.

Our next meeting will be March 24 and every member is most earnestly requested to be present and help to boost for the bazaar. Comrades Wilson and Bigbee were present at the last meeting. The comrades are always welcome. Visiting members are invited to meet with us.

RED MEN. Minnewa Tribe No. 52, Imp. O. R. M., met in regular session on Friday night with all officers and a good turn out of the chiefs present. Two applications for membership were received. Two applications in the hands of committees were balloted upon and nine brothers were raised to the Chief degree. The prospects look bright and the members are getting more interested and are soliciting their paleface friends to become members of the order. The Relief Chiefs report that the sick list is about clear and brothers that are sick are getting along nicely.

On Friday night, March 27, a committee from the Newark Board of Trade will address the Red Men and it is to the interest of every Red Man to be present at this meeting. Be there without fail and hear this proposition.

WODER'S WOODMEN.

Cedar Camp No. 4727, M. W. of A., held no meeting on Wednesday night on account of the fact that they dispensed with the meeting to let the Royal Neighbors of America have their state camp meeting. On next Wednesday night the regular meeting will be held. A committee from the Newark Board of Trade will address the Modern Woodmen at 8 p.m. and it is the highest honor.

Newark Lodge No. 622, M. W. of A., met last Monday evening in regular session. Arrangements for the big county meeting which will be held under auspices of Newark Lodge Wednesday evening, March 25, were completed. The committee has received some very encouraging reports from the lodges of the county.

The second degree is to be conferred on all candidates presenting themselves and we already have the promise of a good big class. We want every Odd Fellow who can possibly make arrangements to be in Newark Wednesday evening to meet with us and help to make this a grand get-together affair. We will be addressed by several prominent workers of the order, among them being Grand Master Kuntz. The committee is working hard to make this one of the most profitable and pleasant meetings of the year.

At the regular meeting Monday evening March 22, the first degree will be conferred. There will also be important business before the Lodge.

SAVED FROM DRUNKARD'S GRAVE

A West Virginia Tribune to the Splendid Neal Institute.

West Virginia has a good many splendid fellows who look on the Neal Institute as the greatest place on earth. And so it is, to them. One enthusiastic business man writes: "I consider the Neal Institute the most valuable institution on earth to humanity. I firmly believe it saved me and a number of my friends from drunkard's graves."

Before he closes a letter of praise he says "Since I have been cured of the drink habit my dear mother has been a different woman."

desire of the officers that a big delegation of the members be present. Deputy Redding is now with us for a short time and has turned in several application cards that will be balloted upon next meeting. On the first regular meeting in April, there will be candidates to receive the work which will be put on in full form and the entertainment committee will have something good for the neighbors. On Wednesday afternoon, April 1, at 2 p.m. the County Camp of the M. W. of A. will meet in the hall to select delegates for the state camp which will be held at Dayton, O. If you are one of the delegates or alternates to the county camp, please be present.

HAYMAKERS.
Minnewa Haymakers association No. 524, will hold their regular monthly session on Thursday night, March 26, and it is the desire that a good turnout be present, especially all members who were on committee for the State Haymakers association. They are requested to have all their bills and accounts ready for this session so that the same can be cleared up. Some important business will be discussed at this meeting and all members should make it a point to be present. Don't forget the date, Thursday night, March 26, 1914.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.
Newark Lodge No. 13, Knights of Pythias, met in regular session last Thursday evening with all officers present and a large attendance of the members. R. M. Smith, president of the Board of Trade, was present and addressed the lodge on behalf of that body. One application for membership was received and referred to the proper committee. The Esquire rank was conferred and it is only justice to the officers to say that it was well done and very impressive.

Next Thursday evening the Page and Esquire ranks will be conferred and the entertainment committee hinted that they would be on hand with something for the inner man. The growth of Newark lodge has been exceedingly good this winter and with applications coming in every meeting makes the future very promising.

Brother C. R. Warrick, chairman of the Booster committee, requests all members of that committee to meet at the hall Sunday afternoon at two o'clock as he has some new plans which wishes to outline to the committee.

Newark lodge met Thursday night with good attendance. After the usual routine of business, the Esquire rank was conferred upon a number of Pages.

Roland Lodge.

The Knight rank was conferred in full form last Tuesday evening upon three Knights. The first or Page rank will be the order of work next Tuesday evening. Six more applications for membership by initiation were received and referred. There have been one or more applications every meeting night since last October. It is needless to say that all this work has kept the officers and degree teams busy. From present indications they will have plenty to do for some little time to come.

Bro. C. E. Root, M. W. F., is confined to his home on Twelfth street with an injured foot, blood poisoning being feared. It goes hard with Charley to be laid up for more than a day or two at a time, but all hope he will soon be out.

The Democratic Taxation Slogan For This Year 1914

Under the management of the State Tax Commission the Democratic taxation slogans for the year 1914 are already proclaimed. They mean the greatest reforms in the state's taxation system ever known since the beginning of its history as a commonwealth.

These slogans are:

Increase in the value of taxable property;
Decrease in the rate of taxation.

Under the progress already made by the tax assessors in conformity with the provisions of the Warnes law, an important increase in the value of taxable property is a settled matter. The increase consists of property that has heretofore escaped taxation.

This increased valuation of taxable property enables the lowering of the rate of taxation for the benefit of all those who have been honestly assessed in the past.

The reduction of the rates of taxation will therefore be a result—a consequence—of what has already been accomplished by the increase of taxation values and the assessment of property that has been escaping its just proportion of obligation for the support of the government in past years.

The reductions in taxation rates are already assured and the great mass of the people will enjoy the benefits of the same.

Decrease in the rate of taxation is therefore the final Democratic slogan for this year 1914.

Machine Destroying; Not Building.

Here is a truth to drive into your memory:

The standpat Republicans who have raised the cry about machine building against the state administration are the very fellows who were applicants for places and lost out. For every place to be filled by a minority appointment there were 10 Republican applicants, so there must not have been so many new places created or there would not be so many disappointed office seekers after places.

Here is just an instance of the kind of machine building, which the Democratic state administration has done:

Abolished By Governor Cox.
State Board of Agriculture, 10 members.

Board of Control, Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, five members.

Fish and Game Commission, five members.

Dairy and Food Commissioner, State Board of Public Works, three members.

State Liability Board of Awards, three members.

Commissioner of Labor Statistics.

Chief Inspector of Mines.

Chief Inspector of Workshops and Factories.

Chief Examiner of Steam Engineers.

Board of Boiler Rules, five members.

State Board of Arbitration and Conciliation, three members.

In addition 4000 taxing jobs were abolished.

Created By Governor Cox.

Agricultural Commission, three members.

Industrial Commission, three members.

Superintendent of Public Works.

Civil Service Commission, three members.

Liquor License Commission, three members.

The civil service and liquor license commissions were created in response to a mandate from the people; the latter has produced $600,000 of new revenue.

The score stands thirty-nine offices abolished by Governor Cox and thirteen created, not included the 4000 taxing jobs abolished in the different counties.

For the first time in the history of the state, the agricultural industry will have adequate representation in the taxing force of the state. The Warnes tax law, which has been so bitterly fought by the city millionaires, makes that possible.

Upon the suggestion of Governor Cox, the members of the State Tax Commission have announced that there will be a representative of the agricultural industry, and representative of the business interests on every county board of complaints of three members. The third member will be selected from some other walk of life.

In the small counties, where the agricultural industry predominates and there is no large city, there will likely be two representatives of the agricultural industry on the boards of complaints, while in the large counties, like Cuyahoga and Hamilton, there will be two representative business men, and one from the agricultural industry.

This decision was made to give the two industries which go to make the equalization of returns of property for taxation. A farmer and business man will thus be able to review assessments of property in their respective industries and to correct what injustices may have crept into them.

Appointments to the boards of Complaints are to be made by the State Tax Commission, subject to the approval of the Governor. No consideration will be given to these selections until the middle of May.

For the expenses of the Boards of Complaints in 1914, an allowance of $70,000 has been made by the State Tax Commission. These bodies will replace the county boards of equalization and city Boards of Review, which operated under the old plan at an annual expense of $260,000.

On Second Thought

When an officeholder stops fondling his constituency that indicates a corporation has offered him a job at a salary considerably in excess of that which he is drawing from the public treasury.

Unless you are familiar with the circumstances which inspired his grief, it is difficult to tell whether a man has sorrow in his family or the home team has lost a game.

The principal objection to the man who is going to the devil is that he is disposed to loiter along the way.

It is very easy for society to shock the people who are not in it.

It is easy enough to talk to a big man. But a big man's secretary is one of colloquy's inaccessible heights.

The average officeholder is as honest as the people who elected him.

About the time a man reaches the age of fifty he begins to see insults in the newspapers to the effect that he is an old man.

There is some generosity among the rich. But there is mighty little gratitude on the part of the poor.

SPRING SICKNESS COMES TO EVERYONE

Spring sickness comes in some degree to every man, woman and child in our climate. It is that run-down condition of the system that results from impure, impoverished, devitalized blood. It is marked by loss of appetite and that tired feeling, and in many cases by some form of eruption.

The best way to treat spring sickness is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Ask your druggist for this all-the-year-round medicine. It purifies, enriches and revitalizes the blood.

THE SOLUTION

THE LITTLE RED SCHOOLHOUSE

TOUGHT to be pretty well understood by this time that the one-room rural district school beloved of our grandfathers is mostly a scandalous institution. The typical teacher is a girl just out of normal school, much underpaid, sometimes overworked and sometimes with only half a dozen pupils of assorted ages. A Vermont report covering thirty-two such schools shows that in three years there were one hundred and seventeen different teachers, of whom—on an average—more than half served less than two terms. A great majority of these schools are poorly housed and hardly equipped at all—just a bare little room with a desk, a rostrum, a blackboard and a poisonous cast iron stove. That efficient instruction can be had under such conditions is out of the question. And there is less and less excuse for the typical one-room, ungraded rural district school. Our grandfathers could have that or nothing. In their day the nearest town was ten miles or more away and the road all but impassable half the year. Now—all over the middle west at least—there are few rural districts that are not within easy haul of a village graded school; still fewer that might not have a fairly equipped graded school within easy haul by consolidating the districts. Already in some localities a wagon to bring in the country children is as much a part of the educational equipment as the traditional blackboard itself. Like some other poor institutions, the little red schoolhouse subsists mainly on prejudice and mere inertia. If educating children is worth all this effort, to give them tolerably efficient teaching is worth just a little more effort.—Saturday Evening Post, March 21, 1914.

Newark's Red Bird Population.

Evidences in some parts of the city are to the effect of an increase in the number of red birds that have wintered over and will be with us to help make merry the coming of spring. Those of our citizens who provided feed shelves for the red birds during the winter have reason for satisfaction in the number of cardinals that are now enlivening nature with their brilliant song. The satisfaction will be extended if our friends will continue to keep their feed shelves well supplied with the very best shelled corn that can be obtained. Do not use the crushed corn that is used as chicken feed, for that is too convenient for the pesky sparrows. But keep the feed shelves well provided with the best quality of shelled corn, the grains of which are ideal for the red bird, whose beak is adapted to his habit of extracting the real germ of the grain for his own scrupulous appetite. If the feed shelves are kept well provided with good shelled corn during the spring and summer months, the mated red birds will bring their young to the shelves every morning in evening to feed them, which is a highly enjoyable sight. And this means a still greater increase in the red bird population to enliven and make merry the remnants of nature's wrenly in our community.

IMMENSE GARAGE OF SPILLMAN BROS. AT 61 SOUTH THIRD

One of the biggest garages in this part of the state is that of the Spillman Bros. at 61 South Third street, and it is as absolutely fireproof as it is possible to make it. The property is owned by Wm. E. Miller, the well-known hardware dealer, and he has constructed this to meet every requirement of the modern garage.

The entire building is of concrete with steel ceiling, and it has 27,000 feet of floor space. It is equipped to care for 100 automobiles; a big elevator is now in course of construction to take automobiles to the second floor or to the basement, where the machine shop is located.

The offices are at present in the main garage but they will be moved into the new two-story building which will be erected this spring to front directly upon Third street.

In this will be a display room, offices, waiting room for ladies, etc., all finished in tile and very handsome and complete throughout.

When completed this will be one of the finest garages in the state and quite in keeping with the boasting of Greater Newark.

Saturday.

To Saturday it would be hard to hand too much of honest praise; it certainly inspires the bard to put up fifty-seven lays. All days are slick, when rightly viewed, with optimistic heart and eyes, but Saturday seems like a dude among a bunch of hayseed guys. It is the best of all the days, it sees the long week's labor done; the worker's go their homeward ways, each man loped side with his man. There's nothing makes us more serene than knowing we have bravely wrought to earn the cleavage of long green which to the wives and kids we've brought. And when the week end whistles blow, announcing now a day of rest, what peace and comfort do we know, who faced our tasks and did our best! Then the long night of perfect rest, and Sunday sees us at the kirk, to hear about a country blast, the home of those who pray and work. So let us work, and let us pray, and do the thing that's to our hand, and when is gone life's fleeting day, we'll caper in the Happy Land.

DAUGHTERS OF VETERANS.
A meeting to take action on important propositions brought before the organization last week will be held at the regular meeting time of the Daughters of America.

Last week National Vice Councillor Mrs. Clara Dick of Shelby, O., and State Councillor Mrs. Ruth Arnold of Toledo were present on the occasion of a regular inspection visit, and both delivered addresses conveying information of the most vital importance to the organization.

Plans were discussed for the district rally, which probably will be held in Shelby in June, with 500 or more delegates present.

An informal program and refreshments concluded the meeting.

Mrs. D. E. Schrock was hostess to the I. N. W. Needle club at her home in Burt avenue, on Thursday. Besides the club diversion music was enjoyed.

A two-course luncheon was served the following: Madamne W. Snooks, Emma Fox, Augusta Leek, Blanche Hawke, Edith Horn, S. Stedmen.

The Loving Workers' club was entertained by Miss Pearl Kendall at her home in Dewey avenue on Friday evening. The evening was pleasantly spent in reviewing their lessons. A daily luncheon was served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be at the home of Miss Florence Killworth in Wing street. All members are requested to be present.

One of the delightful social functions of the week was the surprise of the members of the Twelfth Division of Women's Guild of First M. E. church planned on their leader, Mrs. Fred Shimmel. Thursday evening at her home in Madison avenue Mrs. Shimmel has been the faithful leader of this division since the organization of the guild and the ladies working under her wished to show their appreciation of her efforts and labor and planned this surprise, which was a complete success. Mrs. Shimmel after recovering from the surprise, made her self-invited guests most welcome and a good social hour was enjoyed. Mrs. Mary Tutor in a pleasing talk taken from Joshua 1-8, in behalf of the division presented Mrs. Shimmel with a set of solid silver teaspoons. Mrs. Lester Newkirk then read a poem expressive of the life of our hostess, a sa leader, and delicious refreshments were served to the 25 members present.

Last evening about forty of the neighbors gave a surprise "house warming" for Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Holler at their pretty new home in Granville road. The guests arrived with their baskets, and after a social evening, dainty refreshments were served.

Miss Esther Tyner entertained with a tango-party on Thursday evening at her home in North street. In the contest, Miss Ethel Shook proved to be the fortunate contestant. A dainty refreshment was served and the following enjoyed Miss Tyner's hospitality: Misses Ruth Davis, Ethel Shook, Alice Yates, Doris Handie, Emma Wheeler, Dorothy Roesser, Marguerite Moore, Helen Tyner, Meers Edward Shook, Howard Handie, Ralph Cherry, Forest Wright, Harry Chenoweth, Russell Keeley and Clarence Chenoweth.

A delightful surprise party was tendered Mrs. Zant Baughman on Monday evening at her home in Vine street, it being the anniversary of her birthday. The evening was spent with instrumental music, violin, banjo and guitar.

One of the delightful social functions of the week was the surprise of the members of the Twelfth Division of Women's Guild of First M. E. church planned on their leader, Mrs. Fred Shimmel. Contest Editor's Query Column

The Advocate will be glad to answer all legitimate questions regarding the contest through the Contest Editor's query column. Questions may be sent by mail or telephone. But the answers will be printed in this column so that no contestant will have any advantage over another.

Telephone—In picture No. 18 the man standing near the head of the bed is holding a thermometer in his hand.

C. F. G., Zanesville—We have taken your point up with the artist who drew picture No. 17 and shall answer the question as soon as a reply is received.

H. G. B.—The circulars just published by the Newark Electrical Co. giving "probable answers" to a number of the Advocate pictures plainly say: "We do not claim that our probable answers are correct as no one knows what they will be, but we do know that careful attention and study is given each coupon and it is reasonable to expect that at least some of our answers will be correct." The Newark Electrical Co. is not selling probable answers but is giving the circulars away as an advertisement and to interest people who are in the contest.

A. R. T.—The contest is only half over. You have abundant time. Mail 92 cents now and all the back coupons, a catalogue and papers up to the 70th or last picture will be sent to you. This rate applies only to mail subscriptions outside of Newark.

G. E. B.—Your remittance did not reach us. Please advise when and how you sent it. Of course we shall gladly adjust the matter to your entire satisfaction.

Wilkin Run—You say: Suppose Smith uses 360 coupons and gets the right answers to all 70 pictures and Jones using only 71 coupons gets 69 of the pictures correctly named, which would have the better standing, Smith or Jones?" According to the rules of the contest printed daily on page 2, Smith would have the better standing in the prize distribution though Jones' percentage would be higher. The rules plainly say that any contestant may use not more than 5 coupons for each picture and "if any one of the 5 answers is correct, the contestant will be credited for that correct solution and will not have the incorrect ones counted against his or her chances." The next paragraph of the rules says that prizes will be awarded to every contestant up to 100 (there will be 136 prizes) who sends in the largest number of correct answers upon the smallest number of coupons.

HIGH SCHOOL MINSTREL WILL BE BIG SUCCESS

"Bum - Tum - Ta - Ra - Zinga-

Bum." This is not the name of a Chinaman and neither is it the name of a late terpsichorean diversion. It is the name of a song that is one of the hits of the season and is now be-high school athletic minstrel show which is to be presented by the high school athletic association for the benefit of athletics and the play ground on Thursday and Friday even-afternoon a matinee will be given for the grade school children ex-

When it comes to fun it is an es-minstrel show given by the athletic association is the biggest mirth producer of the high school year—surpassing any other high school pro-

The whirl wind overturn was ar-

COMPelled To INCREASE THE WORKING FORCE

General Manager Carl Pharis, of the Pharis Rubber company, announced Friday that within the next thirty days the company will be running a double shift of 100 men, in order to dispose of the rush of orders.

A number of expert rubber workers from Akron will arrive here Monday to go to work, and the force of employees is being increased every day. There are about forty workmen employed by the company at present, and there are now more orders ahead than the company will be able to fill this year, declared the manager.

At present the plant is running three night a week, and within a few days the double shift will be put on so that it may be operated day and night throughout.

The company is receiving orders daily, and is putting out a brand of tires and rubber novelties which find a ready market. Several Newark men are financially interested in the enterprise.

NEWARK SCHOOLS ARE ELIGIBLE TO A THRIFT CONTEST

The Newark public schools may enter the second contest which has been started by the American Society for Thrift, whose headquarters are in Chicago, 1002 Straus building, and Superintendent Hawkins has been notified by a bulletin issued by the society that the Newark schools are eligible to enter the contest. The bulletin says:

There have been important developments since the "Thrifting Contest," in the public schools of cities of 10,000 population and more, which closed November 15th last. Particularly there is the decision to urge public school gardening as a definite, practical means to promote thrift. Therefore, in announcing a new contest, open to pupils of the grade schools anywhere in the United States, it has been decided to make the contest different from the first, and relate definitely to the thrifit value of the school gardening.

The importance of encouraging gardening as a means of teaching the value of the vegetable garden to households contending with the cost of living, and of the flower garden as furnishing things worth while in life, has been impressed upon the American Society for Thrift from many quarters, since it announced its intention to urge gardening. What is being done in those cities and towns where gardening has a real start, all confirms the belief that gardening un-

FOR THE PORCH Use AURORA PAINT

Because it is the paint with long life even where the wear is excessive.

Everyone who enters or leaves your home treads over the porch; it is subject to numberless scrubbings with soap and hot water, to rain, snow and sun, also in summer, it is made an outdoor living room.

Such wear would be hard on adamant. Aurora Porch Paint clings to the surface, does not blister or scale.

For that reason and because of other wearing qualities, secured by the special formula used, it will give longer service and last longer than any other paint we know.

Mixed with Pure Linseed Oil, and Turpentine remember.

Ask your painter about it, he knows.

der public school supervision will do very great things in teaching thrift both to school pupils and through them to parents.

There are fifteen opportunities to be prize-winners in this second contest. President Simon W. Straus offers for the first prize $20, either in gold or in equivalent value of books on gardening, agriculture or thrift.

To four who are rated second best in the contest $5 in cash each, or an equivalent amount in books on gardening, agriculture or thrift.

For the ten which are rated third best in the contest the prize will be $1.00 each in cash, or an equivalent value in books on gardening, agriculture or thrift.

There are some schools in which money prizes are not permitted. That is true in Chicago, and for that reason substitute prizes are named so that all towns and cities may be active in the contest.

The competition is to find the best three narratives of the success of real persons (give the names and addresses of the persons) who have used gardening as a means for thrift with definite results; length of each narrative about 100 words or a total of 300 for the three narratives. Each contestant is to send the story of three cases of thrift inspired by or based on gardening.

LABOR NOTES

Delegates to Newark Trades and Labor Assembly will please remember the regular meeting tomorrow (Sunday) morning at 10 o'clock sharp. There will be new delegates present and a big bunch of business to attend to.

It was a pleasure for us to accept an invitation to meet with the shoe-workers in their first regular meeting since their charter was granted them from the International Shoe Workers Union of North America. The national organizer, Bro. Hentz, was in the chair, and showed that he was no novice in his position, who introduced J. W. Adams who made them a short talk upon the objects and aims of organized labor.

Our last meeting, March 8 was a very large one and interesting. President W. M. Morgan was in the chair on time. The assembly was opened in due form by the chaplain. The minutes of the last session were approved as read by Secretary Johnson, Bros. Watson, Leeman, Hayden and A. C. Kelley were obligated as delegates by the president.

Bro. George Streamer was introduced and made a manly statement about the Indian Motor Cycle trouble. The committee on amendment to the by-laws made a report which will take three successive regular meetings before the final adoption can be had. Brothers, this is important, and you should be present. One of our best and truest union men has gone to a suburban town in the county to embark in business for himself. We will surely miss Bro. Joseph Fulk of the Clerks' union.

Last Night's Show.
The same delightful music, the same delightful line of pleasant comedy, with many of the same delightful impersonators seen here on previous visits of the production characterized Friday night's appearance of "Girl of My Dreams," at the Auditorium theater.

Of course, tuneful songs and lively terpsichorean numbers, for which Hoschka is famed, is the chief asset of the attraction. The comedy, often convulsively funny, comes next. Both were exploited by an admirable cast, headed by Countess Olga Von Hatzfeldt, as "the girl," with Roy Purvis, a good-looking, sweet singing tenor as her winning but hand-spared lover. The comedy laurels are pretty evenly divided between "Count Von Schnigglitz," in which Irving Brooks' German dialect and natural humor is great, and "Daphne Daffington," impersonated by Eva Von Luke; a true comedienne and mimic. "Socrates Primmer" (Frank McEwan) carries a good share of the comedy, while the bombastic "Bom-bastiño" has no small part in the fun making as delivered by Charles Horner. Neil Burns as "Pidgeon Williams" offered some Cohaniesque dance steps which went well with the audience.

Song hits of the piece are "I'm Ready to Quit and be Good," "Quaker T alk," "The Letters You Shouldn't Have sent," "Dr. Tinkle Tinker" and "Girl of My Dreams."

A big feature is the tango, with divisions and variations, as danced by Walter James and Adele Boulaïs, of the Jardin des Danse, New York.

Mary Magdalene.

Remember when we first read Sir Walter Scott's "Ivanhoe" and how we enjoyed it? and then we read "The Bride of Lammermoor," and how sorry we felt for poor Edgar. It was with great difficulty that mother got us to leave these books and grace the table with our presence. Didn't dad get sore too. But then he smiled afterwards when he remembered how very interesting they were. We are going to have a chance to see Edgar in real life for this story is being presented in reels of motion pictures. In conjunction "Mary Magdalene," a Biblical story of the time when Jesus was on earth. This story has all of the famous characters we have studied about Judas Iscariot, Pilate and Mary Magdalene.

The latter picture has been endorsed by the pulpit and press all over the country and should be well patronized here in Newark.

Rainey's Hunt Pictures.

At last we are to see the wonderful and original "Rainey's Hunt" pictures. They will be shown both afternoon and night tomorrow (Sunday) at the Auditorium, and also Monday. Several times before the interested in high class amusements thought they were going to see them.

Scene in Rainey's Famous African Hunt Pictures at the Auditorium--Sunday, Matinee and Night, Mar. 22.

But the dates has at last been set, and our hopes are not blasted after all.

In New York where they were shown for one year, they were a sensation, inasmuch as nothing had ever been shown quite so wonderful in motion photography. Rainey is a sportsman and an adventurer, who has oodles of money and a hankering for sensation and danger. During this expedition he had plenty of excitement as is shown in these pictures. Imagine standing out in the open with a lion within a few yards of you trying to secure a picture of him. Isn't that a pleasant thought?

Often these daring men lose their lives for these situations are not acted. They are real.

We see hundreds of strange birds, some we have read about and some we have not. We see a mother elephant and her baby and appreciate a mother's love even in dumb brutes, for she cares for it with the utmost kindness and tenderness, and would even sacrifice her life to protect it. Then the rhinoceros and its ugly appearance, with many "tick" birds perched upon its back. He is satisfied as long as they continue to roost there, but just let them get off and he is frightened. The ostrich, jackal, hyena and impala are all shown in turn.

It cost over $250,000 to produce this wonderful picture of six reels, for over 400 men took part and many horses and dogs. The natives with very black skins and pleasant smiles are very much in evidence, they try very hard to appear brave in the lion hunt, but are very much braver after Mr. Rainey has dispatched the audience.

Song hits of the piece are "I'm Ready to Quit and be Good," "Quaker Talk," "The Letters You Shouldn't Have sent," "Dr. Tinkle Tinker" and "Girl of My Dreams."

A big feature is the tango, with divisions and variations, as danced by Walter James and Adele Boulaïs, of the Jardin des Danse, New York.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's recipe to bring back color, thickness and lustre. Everybody is using it again.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advanced age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalpitching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger. Mr. North Harry Eytinge
Bob Graham Ben Wilson
Huggins Joseph Girard
Billy Andrew J. Clark
Eleanor Cooper Gert McCoy

HUGGINS slouched down at his desk, his face ridged in heavy frown, gazed viciously at a thick yellow pen. The clattering typewriters and the scratching of the bookkeepers' pens that filled the room did not penetrate his consciousness, which was wholly absorbed by the problem of how to pay a debt six times larger than his yearly income, when he had no credit and no particular reputation on which to secure any. If it hadn't been for that second little flyer—if he had only kept his hands off and waited—he strong white teeth ground on the lead.

His thoughts took new channel. It wasn't enough what had been, as what was to be, and he prepared to himself how he might profit from this unprofitable. If only he might get away where he wasn't known and begin over.

"It's not the getting away alone, though," he meditated. "You've got to have something to get away on. If I had, say, just what the company sends out to its workmen on every Saturday day the firm wouldn't really miss it, and it would set me up in life."

He was interrupted by unusual conversation on the other side of the thin partition which separated the office of Mr. North, president of the Globe Construction company, from the part division to clerks and stenographers. The words ran through in a boy's shrill voice. "He's took sick side and can't work with the money today." This was followed by a low rumbling broken again by a clear-toned feminine voice. She knew as that of Eleanor Cooper, the chief secretary. "I can take it just as well as Mr. North. I know how to run the car. It's broad daylight and no one would think of a girl being on such an errand, so no one would think of holding one up."

There was another vocal rumble, and then Eleanor's clear response. "Yes, I can shoot, and I'll take the revolver if you want me."

Huggins had grown alert, and he bent over his ledger, his eyes straining to hear all that went on in the small office. After rummaging through the contents of a drawer there was a moment's silence, an irritated rumble, and then Eleanor's reply. "O, two cartridges will be plenty. This is a peace expedition, Mr. North and I don't need a whole armament."

Huggins got up from his desk and strolled down the office. Two cartridges, a lonely road, a girl, and $6.00—fate was playing in his hand. He stood out of the door and saw the shadow of the company used for its errands stand up at the curbing. He hurried on across the street and headed east.

A little while after Huggins had disappeared, Eleanor, carrying a small bag, came out and jumped in the car, spinning off toward the works. She joined the foremen and the outdoors, and had almost forgotten her errand when she felt the car's motion lessening. She put on more power. She urged with all of the mechanical devices with which one can urge an automobile, but it stalled to a standstill. Eleanor was dismayed at the accident and the lonely stretch of country in which it had happened, but she saw the cloud of smoke rising above the works ahead of her, and she decided to walk the short distance.

She had gone only a few feet when a man sprang out from behind some shrubbery at the roadside. She stopped him and dug down the road, just gained upon him. Just around some bushes she saw a tumble-down shack and made for it at all speed. Huggins chose at her heels. She at managed to slip in, slam the door shut, and drop the wooden bar across it with a splinter of imitation core at intervals sufficient to keep it well established. When the bottle of red ink is running low they approach an open well, down which they fling their scarecrow, with a final splash of good red gore on the surface. The conspirators hide and watch the disappearance of the first trace of the crime, the examination with magnifying glasses made by the constables, the filling of the chews with the "bloodhounds," and the passing crowd of villagers to the scarecrow climax. Then the speeders make a break for their car, and pursued by the entire village, smash all of the speed records of the state as they make their mad escape.

She passed with relief, and then thankfully drew out her revolver. There was a scumble outside, and on the top of a hat began slowly to rise above the ledge of the little unglazed window. Eleanor, fearing the man would crawl

Vitagraph.

When her classmate, Anita, came to visit her, Dolly Hoffman was overjoyed and took care to share her pleasure with her old chum, Peter Drake, with whom she had played since childhood. Peter found pleasure in Anita and made himself equally nice to both girls, but he was sorely put to it to decide which one he preferred. At the fall meet of the country club he found his decision all made when he galloped his horse and discovered Dolly seated on the ground where her horse had thrown her. Peter helped her to the clubhouse, revived her, and effected a permanent cure by proposing to her.

Anita, who had made strenuous efforts to enthrall Peter, happened over by the screen behind which they were in retreat, and overheard the conversation, the turn of events causing her considerable chagrin. Her feelings were not healed by witnessing the bridal preparations or taking part in the bridal party.

A little later Anita was guest at a house party given by the Drakes, and she kept disconcerted soul on the alert for anything she could misconstrue. Dolly, having accomplished every one she liked to the same pleasure, and in the intervals, she took Bill Ward aside to tell him perfectly charming girl was coming next day and asking him to go along to the station to meet her. In order to make these points tactfully and effectively she drew him to a secluded corner and concluded the interview by writing on his dance program, "at 10 o'clock in the morning."

Anita had not been idle, and just at this conclusive point came Peter, fortified with the information that his wife was allowing Billy Ward to make love to her. That was enough to put him in a rage, and he declared, "I have seen my wife, and I will hear no explanation, be simply ended this by declaring, 'I have seen with my own eyes.'

Misery settled down on the Drake household, except for Anita. Rising early she slipped a note under Dolly's door saying she was running up to town on the 7:15. Peter also bestirred himself early, wrote a tract to the effect that he must see his lawyer to find out what to do, and that he was going to town on the 7:15, which he slipped into Dolly's door and departed for the train.

Dolly awoke soon after, read her letters and sprang to the telephone, calling Bill Ward, asking him to come around with his car in a hurry, and then Nell, whom she asked to go with her on an errand. In a jiffy the three were assembled, Dolly pushed Nell into the front seat with Bill, and they were off in pursuit of the train which had a short start ahead of them.

On the train was Peter unwillingly exposed to the blandishments of Anita, whom he had been shocked to find at the station and with whom he was making the journey most reluctantly. On sped the train and on followed the object of its pursuit and discharged its passengers on the station platform to wait the arrival of those brought by the steam engine. Peter, escorting Anita and her dog down the station platform, was decidedly crestfallen when he observed his wife reclining him. Dropping the bag and rushing up to her he attempted an explanation, but she turned coldly. "That will do. I have seen with my own eyes," and led her company back to the machine, placing Nell and Bill in the front seats, occurring the back one alone. Peter dashed after her, but she waved him back. "I'm going home now. If you have any explanations to make you'll find me there."

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

How Firm a Foundation!

We need the inspiration of purpose and the stimulus of association to attain the best there is in life.

A foundation, therefore, for substantial thought and higher living, must be valued as worth cultivating.

Church attendance is agreeable to those who have formed the church-going habit, because it recognizes a right foundation, reflecting a desire to benefit not only ourselves but the community.

It must be recognized that every well-meaning individual who believes in the up-lifting value of church services, ought to help in community advancement both by participation and example.

The Ten Commandments are considered a safe foundation of Government, of Law, of Church and of Society.

As basic law nothing is better or could be better.

Balanced with the Ten Commandments, but making it law more appealing, more individual comes the Sermon on the Mount, the modern enlargement of the ancient code.

From the Mosaic law, the word of God, to the Christ message on the Mount, there is only the development of time, the Christ spirit enlarging and broadening its possibilities.

"Therefore Whosoever Heareth These Sayings, and Doeth Them, I Will Liken Him Unto a Wise Man, Which Builded His House Upon a Rock."

Moses talked with God, and gave the world the laws written on tablets of stone.

Christ talked with men and gave the world his doctrine as revealed in the Sermon on the Mount.

You surely can accept these as a platform on which you can work for human need and general development.

Churches are founded upon these expressions of God the Father and God the Son, and every one can join in the work of advancing such doctrine and sharing its benefits.

Newark has many people who ought to be associated in the work of the churches, because they believe in these foundation principles, ought to be a part of the organizations which are pressing forward these principles, with a view of benefiting humanity.

Now, Tomorrow, the church services of Newark will center around the Law of God, and the Love of Christ.

You ought to participate.

The pastors will have something to say which will especially appeal to you. There is a cordial welcome for you at any Newark church.

CONFIDENT THAT AGREEMENT WILL SOON BE REACHED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Chicago, March 21.—A settlement of differences and the adoption of a new weight scale for the 400,000 soft coal miners of western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, seemed to be no nearer today when the joint conference between representatives of the United Mine Workers of America and the operators was resumed.

The miners and the operators were confident today that an agreement would be reached eventually and put into operation by April 1, the time when the present agreement expires.

No man would listen to your talk if he didn't know it was his turn next.

Twenty-two boys took part in the hike last Saturday afternoon. This is the first in a series of hikes that will be held during the spring and summer.

The membership contest will be brought to a close tonight at 10 p.m. The winners will then be decided by the judges. The prizes will be awarded Tuesday, March 24th at the Juniors regular class hour. FIGHT AGAINST USE OF CONCRETE ON NATIONAL PIKE

Improvement of the National Pike is about to be turned into a plain open fight between brick manufacturers and concrete manufacturers, it seems. Zanesville papers carry stories Saturday to the effect that the Ohio Association of Brick manufacturers is determined to "force" the state and federal authorities to use brick on the pike, only they put it that the brick men are going to say that between concrete and nothing, the pike will be paved with nothing.

This defiant stand is said to be supported by faith in injunction proceedings, now threatened by the brick men.

Zanesvillians are all wrought up over the falling through of their hope to land a big bunch of brick contracts on the pike, and now it is charged that the specifications calling for concrete were brought about at the instigation of concrete manufacturers, so the brick men and sympathizers have announced in substance that if the federal and state authorities don't play their game they won't play any.

A photo of the whole business is that a committee is to be sent to Washington by the brick manufacturers some time soon. State Highway Commissioner Marker told the newspaper that he had no time to go to Washington.

In the First M. E. Church here, on March 24th ex-Senator Frank J. Cannon of Utah, and Dr. James S. Martin will present all the evils and perils of Mormonism and a branch of the Order of the Crusaders will be organized.

The meeting is held under the auspices of the Men's Christian Union and the Federation of Women's clubs of this city.

That the insidious teaching of polygamy by the Mormons church reaches high and impresses the strong as well as the weak is proved by the findings of the Anti-Mormon crusaders who come to Newark, Ohio, on Tuesday, March 24th. As late as February 14, recruits for Polygamy were enlisted. On that date, the Rev. Dr. James S. Martin of Pittsburgh, Pa., asserts: Thomas W. Bicknell, former president of the National Education Association wrote as follows:

"I am not sure but that we may have come to polygamy in a modified form as a cure for the illicit polygamous life in the East, Central West and on the Pacific Coast where marital life is bestial and delish. Think of the terrible and adulterous conditions under the cover of our marriage laws!"

This, coming from one of the foremost American educators, is a sign of times. Dr. Bicknell exerts some influence over every Public school teacher in the United States. He was a pioneer in the upbuilding of the National Educational Association, and Dr. Martin, who comes here on March 24th, contends that if the Mormons could persuade Dr. Bicknell that polygamy in any form or in any degree would be right before God or man, it is fair to assume that school teachers and others not so safely grounded in morals as Dr. Bicknell, would be likewise influenced to the hurt of all American homeslife; to the detriment of all motherhood and to the utter destruction of the domestic relations between normal men and women.

ACTIVITY

Immediately after Colonel Seely, the secretary of state for war had been in audience with King George at Buckingham Palace this morning, Colonel Seely summoned a meeting of the army council which took the necessary steps to replace officers who had resigned.

According to reports however, the number of vacancies is rapidly increasing and it seems possible that all regular regiments which have been straining in Ulster may have to be withdrawn and replaced by fresh troops, as both men and officers have openly expressed their disinclination to take the offensive against men whom they have been fraternizing.

This momentary shifting of the immediate crisis from Ulster to the army may give the peacemakers their desired opening.

The return of Arthur J. Balfour, former Unionist premier, at London has given heart to the advocates of a compromise. He and Premier Asquith have served long years side by side in the political field and understand and appreciate one another.

A mutiny of two companies of the Doresthire regiment stationed in Belfast is reported by the Pall Mall Gazette. The message says:

"When the men of the First battalion of the Doresthire regiment were parading in Belfast today and noticed that they were being transferred elsewhere they threw down their arms. A sergeant stepped forward, saluted the officers and said: 'We will have no home rule here.'

This is thought in some quarters to be an exaggerated version of the reports of unrest among the regular troops in Ulster.

Belfast, Ireland. March 21.—Ulster this morning presented a very material aspect. All the towns were occupied by soldiers of the regular army and other detachments were marching along the country roads with long trains of baggage and ammunition carts, on their way to strengthen the various garrisons. In the meanwhile at all the Unionist centers there was great wholesale defection.

A significant illustration of this attitude was given yesterday by the inhabitants of Enniskillen who hung flags along the streets in honor of the arrival of a battalion of the Bedfordshire regiment.

MEN REFUSE TO MARCH AGAINST THE UNIONISTS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Dublin, March 21.—Field Marshal Sir John French, chief of the Imperial Federal staff arrived here today in connection with the resignations of officers from the regular army, owing to their refusal to march against the unionists in Ulster.

Nearly all the officers of the Queen's Own Hussars stationed at the Curragh camp, are said to have handed in their commissions and their places have been filled.

It was reported today that Brigadier General Hubert de la Poer Gough, the commander of the third cavalry brigade at Curragh, composed of the Sixteenth Lancers and the Fourth Hussars has resigned.

Large bodies of armed police left today for various stations in the north of Ireland.

Scores of small magistrates for service in Ulster were sworn in at the castle this morning.

Belfast also displayed considerable activity. Two torpedo boat destroyers arrived there this morning from King's Bay and landed five officers and 120 men of the Yorkshire regiment at Carrickfergus Castle.

Within 24 hours over 3,000 regular troops, including four battalions of infantry with machine guns and two batteries of field artillery, all equipped for active service, have arrived in the various towns of Ulster.

These troops from the advance guards of a large armed force which the military authorities are sending to the northern province of Ireland to prevent the assumption of local government by anti-home rulers.

Still more troops are on their way to the north from the great military camp at the Curragh and from other army stations today. The first arrivals in Ulster this morning were the companies of a half battalion of the Yorkshire Infantry which were conveyed from their barracks in Dublin to Belfast Lough.

on board the torpedo boat destroyer Pathfinder during the night. They disembarked at an early hour this morning and marched to Carrickfergus castle, a disused military station commanding the Lough. It lies 15 miles below Belfast and is of historic interest owing to its having been the landing place of William III. Field guns were mounted on the old fortifications this afternoon.

Orders were issued to other batteries of artillery to occupy strategic positions around the city of Belfast.

It was generally expected that a cavalry brigade would be concentrated in Belfast during the week end. The sixteenth Queens Lancers and the fourth Queens Own Hussars, stationed at the Curragh were yesterday equipped with carbines and were ready to move northward this afternoon.

These sudden sparsations by the war office so far have not created any public demonstrations in Belfast. The leaders of the so-called unionist provisional government however, admit their anxiety lest their over-enthusiastic followers precipitate riots during the two days of idleness, at the week end and gave their opponents the sought-for opportunity for enforcing riotous and oppressive measures.

Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster leader and his lieutenants desire the government to take the first provocative step. Sir Edward, realizing the vitalness of preventing an un disciplined outbreak as a protest against all these troop movements, today began urging the Ulster men to keep cool during the week end.

The city this morning presented its normal outward aspect.

All the places of business were open and in accordance with the urgent request of the unionist leaders, all the men worked until their usual Saturday closing time.

Sir Edward Carson did not emerge today from Craigavon the residence of Captain Craig, three miles from Belfast. There he continues to hold his "cabinet councils" with Captain Craig, the marquis of Londonderry, the Earl of Ranfurly, the Earl of Clanwilliam and other Unionist leaders.

Orders for provisions to be sent to Craigavon are given by telephone or sent by dispatch riders.

Martial law has been declared within Captain Craig's estate.

The old town hall of Belfast, which is the official headquarters of the "provisional government" has been denied to all. The important equipment as well as all documents, ciphers and other papers, have been removed from it and hidden in a variety of places after being distributed among the most important leaders of the unionists. This was done in consequence of the announcement of impending arrests which the unionists contend brought about the present crisis.

Every "volunteer" in Ulster still stands ready for mobilization. The provisional government's "posting house" by which letters and despatches are delivered by hand to the government post, was busy all night sending and receiving communications to and from the various mobilization centers of the unionists. A wireless station on the roof of the old town hall also was working while some of the rooms of the building which have been filled with telegraph instruments for the instruction of the women telegraphers who are to take over the lines of communication were filled with workers.

The drug stores of Belfast have laid in large supplies of surgical and medical equipment.

The feeling or unrest among certain sections of the government troops is very strong. Some of the soldiers and the officers of the infantry battalions quartered in Ulster including the Doresthire regiment and the Norfolk regiment, have openly expressed their disinclination to take the offensive. This does not cause any surprise among civilians who generally expect wholesale defections.

This momentary shifting of the immediate crisis from Ulster to the army may give the peacemakers their desired opening.
